

T-DOSE

Technical Dutch Open Source Event (www.t-dose.org)

5 and 6 November 2011, Fontys University of Applied Science,

Eindhoven, The Netherlands.

The Place Where Experts Meet

T-DOSE is a free and yearly event held in The Netherlands to promote use and development of Open Source Software. During this event Open Source projects, developers and visitors can exchange ideas and knowledge.

Foundation T-DOSE

Foundation T-DOSE (Technical Dutch Open Source Event) strives to promote the use and knowledge about Open Source software. By organizing a yearly event called T-DOSE the foundation hopes to give Open Source communities a platform on which they can interact amongst each other and present themselves to their user base.

Call for papers

Possible subjects for talks are: Web 2.0, Desktop, Multimedia, Gaming, Embedded, Internet TV/Radio and other good ideas.

Speakers can send ideas and abstracts to: abstracts@t-dose.org. The e-mail should contain a short biography of the speaker and description of the talk. All talks will be held in English.

Abstracts can be sent until 31st of August.

Open Source Projects

At the event location there is room for Open Source market and for community developer rooms. Stands and rooms are free of charge.

Requests for stands and community rooms should be sent to: abstracts@t-dose.org. All requests will be handled in order, so don't be late !

Sponsors

Inquiries for sponsor opportunities should send an e-mail to: sponsors@t-dose.org and request a sponsor form.

Visitor information

Linked in group: T-DOSE

Facebook group: T-DOSE

Mailinglist: <http://www.t-dose.org/announce>

WWW.T-DOSE.ORG